

SMARMORE SLATE

In 1959 the County Louth Archaeological Society uncovered many fragments of inscribed slate on the grounds of an ancient church at Smarmore (south of Ardee, Co. Louth). Some of which contained musical notation. The slates have been dated to the 15th century and likely written by a schoolmaster.